

2023 Press Brake TOOLING and Equipment

DUROSTAMP

 DUROSTAMP

 DUROBEND

Durostamp Tool LLC was formed 2019 in Virginia. Durostamp Tool provide services to all companies in the industry in line with their needs more than 17 years of experience and knowledge in the sheet metal processing industry.

The company operates as a press brake tools and accessories trading company located in Virginia. The Company offers a wide range of high-quality products procured from its stable network of suppliers. The Company engages in import activities, purchasing press brake and press brake tools from suppliers in Italy and Turkey, and subsequently selling those products to manufacturing and construction companies in the U.S.

As the products which Durostamp Tool will sell represent an important operational input for numerous firms, it is of particular importance for them to have this equipment available in a short time. If not, and a company cannot obtain this input on time, it will have to either interrupt or postpone production, which can cause serious operational and financial harm. This is why Durostamp Tool will put particular emphasis on efficient service. Durostamp Tool will strive to return the incoming requests within the same day, and if the ordered product is in stock, it will be shipped the same day. Special requests that require additional processing of the products will be answered within two days at the latest. To achieve this, the Company will maintain close business relationships with suppliers and carefully monitor products in stock to detect shortages and order new quantities in time. By providing fast service to customers, Durostamp Tool will be able to build an image of a reliable partner and eventually increase customer satisfaction.

Durostamp Tool have been preferred a lot of companies in a period of about 3 years, and it continues to add new ones to this number every day in line with the quality of its products and customer satisfaction-oriented services.

The Tooling service required for the products that the companies want to make is solved with the least cost and the fastest and most accurate support is provided for the bending applications.

Our company policy is focused on customer satisfaction and the quality and sensitivity of our products have been determined accordingly.

We are happy to serve you our valued customers, and thank you for choosing us.

Regards...